

TROTZKY REPORTED KILLED

SOVIET OFFICER ASSASSINATED AVERS DISPATCH

Founder of Bolshevism and
ernment

NOT FIRST RUMOR

He and Lenine Have Been Reported Killed Several Times

London, Sept. 11.—Leon Trotsky, commissar for war in the Russian soviet government, is reported to have been assassinated, according to a Central News dispatch from Berlin this afternoon.

The report was said to have been received in Berlin from Moscow.

Trotsky and Nikolai Lenine were the chief founders of bolshevism in Russia and the outstanding figures in the soviet government. Trotsky conducted the military affairs; Lenine the political movements.

Trotsky and Lenine have both been reported assassinated many times in the past. Lenine was wounded by a girl named Dora Kaplan who shot him in the shoulder. Shots were fired at Trotsky but they missed.

Trotsky completely reorganized the Russian army after the revolution, but it was defeated in war with Poland. Then he undertook intensive reorganization and is said to have reduced it from 1,000,000, to 500,000, relieving all unfit troops from duty.

In March Trotsky was reported very ill from an abdominal complaint. Charles R. Crane, an American, who reached London from Moscow in March, brought word that Trotsky was so sick he probably would die before the end of this year.

The Russian trade delegation here had no confirmation of the report and discredited it.

AMERICAN EXPORTS TO JAPAN TO BE TRIPLIED DURING YEAR

Washington, Sept. 11.—American exports to Japan will be tripled at least during the coming year as a result of the empire's great catastrophe, officials at the Japanese embassy predicted today.

The bulk of the empire's imports will be materials for use in rebuilding her devastated cities. The prospective American trade to Japan during the next 12 months will total $1,500,000,000, it was estimated.

Embassy records revealed the U. S. as Japan's greatest market for outgoing commerce for twenty years past while Japan has purchased more raw materials from the United States than from any other nation for the last seven years. Total normal trade between the two nations has passed the billion dollar mark since 1920.

TOKIO REGAINING COMPOSURE; WATER SYSTEM RESTORED

Shanghai, Sept. 11.—Ten days have elapsed since the cities of Tokio and Yokohama were almost completely wiped out by the earthquake and fire. Relief work is gradually overcoming the distress suffered by the millions of Japanese and hundreds of Americans and other foreigners.

Food is at last becoming more plentiful. Every train and ship arriving in the stricken zone is docking its quota of supplies. The public parks of the capital city and the nation's famous seaport city resemble huge military barracks. Here countless thousands are being temporarily housed and fed.

First reports of the total casualties now appear to have been greatly exaggerated, but it is more than likely that the exact number of lives lost will never be known. Thousands of victims, injured in the collapse of their homes, were unable to escape and were cremated in the fiery whirlwind which swept the two cities and surrounding suburbs.

At this writing the death list in Tokio alone is conservatively estimated at between 25,000 and 30,000. The estimates of dead and injured at Yokohama varies from 30,000 to 100,000. No official figures are obtainable.

Japanese residents in China, foreigners and Chinese immediately responded to the urgent calls from Tokio and Yokohama for relief. As fast as double crews can load ships with rice, Japan's principal foodstuff, they are dispatched to the stricken sections.

Order prevails in Tokio and Yokohama, reports of late looting and pillaging to the contrary, according to official word received here by the Japanese consulate.

With the restoration of the water system a long step toward checking the possibilities of plague has been made, according to a statement received here from the home minister at Tokio. It is expected that the cholera and dysentery menace will be sufficiently checked to prevent the source of plague.

RUHR WORKERS' TERMS.

Cologne, Sept. 11.—The chairman of the Essen German trades unions announces that the passive resistance in the Ruhr will be abandoned on three conditions: The return to their homes of all those who have been deported from the occupied regions, with their families; release of all prisoners; the summary rejection of any attempt to infringe on the sovereign rights of the reich and the revocation of all laws which limit the acceptance of economic reparations, with liability fixed within bounds possible of fulfillment.

BELIEVE DISASTER TO NAVAL VESSELS CAUSED BY QUAKE

Washington, Sept. 11.—Reports to the navy department failed to establish with any degree of definiteness the cause of the stranding of the seven destroyers, which were swept on the rocks of southern California coast late Sunday night.

A reaction from the Japanese earthquake and tidal wave was advanced by high naval officials as a possible cause of the disaster. Confusion of the radio signals or changes in the tides, resulting from the seismic disturbance across the Pacific, were also suggested as having been partly responsible for the greatest peace time casualty in the navy's history. "We don't know but some agitation due to the earthquake and tidal wave may have caused it," Secretary Denby said. "It may have been a tidal wave that hit them."

Within the past week, following the disaster in Japan, reports have been received from the Pacific coast of heavy seas and high waves which have been observed at points along the shore. According to high naval opinion, these disturbances may have been encountered by the destroyer fleet, throwing the vessels off their course and laying them at the mercy of swift tides which had been previously unknown along that part of the coast.

MUSSOLINI AGAIN BALKS ON PLANS

London, Sept. 11.—It is learned here that Premier Mussolini now refuses to accept the understanding reached by the ambassadors' conference Friday last that Corfu be evacuated by Italy as soon as Greece has accepted in full the decision of the conference by paying £500,000 into court. Mussolini argues that there will be no evacuation of Corfu until all the proceedings connected with the Janina murders are terminated. The British government declines to accept this interpretation and in the event of Mussolini not receding from his attitude insists that the matter come up at Geneva for the league of nations' decision.

ROYAL MARRIAGE ARRANGED.

Brussels, Sept. 11.—A princess, Josef, daughter of the king and queen of Belgium, will marry the crown prince of Italy.

SAYS COOLIDGE FAVORS WORLD COURT PROGRAM

First Commitment From President on Important Question

Washington, Sept. 11.—President Coolidge favors America's entry into the world court.

This declaration was made at the white house by the Rev. Dr. William E. Barton of Oak Park, Ill., moderator of the Congregational church of the United States, immediately following a lengthy conference with the president. It was the first commitment on this question, either directly or indirectly, from the president since he assumed the executive office.

Dr. Barton declared that the president clearly gave him to understand that he intends to follow out the policies of President Harding on the world court and a general declaration that the Harding policies will be carried through was intended to include this subject. Dr. Barton, who heads the religious denomination of which the president and his family are communicants, is an ardent advocate both of the league of nations and the world court.

It is believed that President Coolidge will resubmit the Harding-Hughes proposal for American membership in the world court to the senate when it convenes in December.

Chairman Adams of the Republican national committee saw the president for the first time since his return to Washington last week. Following his conference he announced that the national committee will be called to meet in Washington the second week in December to fix the time and place of the 1924 national convention. At that time all cities bidding for the meeting will be given full opportunity to present their claims, the chairman said. Chicago appears to have the best look in. Fred Upham, treasurer of the national committee, already is said to claim enough advance pledges to insure Chicago's selection. Cleveland appears the most aggressive contender with Chicago. Ohioans are urging that city as a tribute to the late President Harding.

RECORD IS BROKEN FOR SPEED IN AIR

New York, Sept. 11.—A new world's record for airplane speed was set when the navy Wright flyer, which will represent the navy in the Pulitzer race at St. Louis next month, flew 238 miles an hour in a test flight at Mineola, L. I. The best previous mile was made by Sadi Lecoq, French flyer, in Paris, Feb. 15 last. The new record was made in a straight-away flight, without the advantage of a dive from altitude for a start, and was closely timed. Lieutenant L. H. Sanderson, who drove the record mile, will carry the navy's colors at the Pulitzer event, Oct. 1, 2 and 3.

NAVIES DEPEND ON ELEMENT OF CHANCE

London, Sept. 11.—"The disaster to the American destroyer flotilla Sunday is the most extraordinary happening in naval history," says the London Daily News in an editorial. "In the space of a few minutes the American navy suffered a loss greater than it did during the whole period of the war," continues the editorial, which concludes: "The reflection suggested by this regrettable misfortune is the dependence on chance by even the best equipped and most ably commanded modern naval units. A sudden storm catching the British fleet at a disadvantage might in a single day reduce us from a first-class to a third-class power."

BALKAN SITUATION IS GROWING ACUTE

London, Sept. 11.—Albania has rejected the Greek ultimatum that the assassins of General Tellini, Italian president of the Italian boundary commission, be delivered up within five days, said a dispatch from Athens this afternoon.

The Albanian government declared it has information that the assassins were Greeks and that if Greece does not arrest them Albanian police will cross the frontier into Greece and do so.

The Balkan situation is becoming more acute.

Cuba's President Faces Serious Crisis

President Alfredo Zayas, of Cuba, is facing a serious crisis, both inside his island and in his relations with the United States Government, which are admitted to be strained.

FRIENDS OF COOLIDGE LAYING GROUNDWORK FOR NOMINATION

Washington, Sept. 11.—Quietly and without any tooting of horns, the friends of Calvin Coolidge have begun to lay the groundwork for his nomination by the Republican convention ten months hence. The work is getting well under way.

That he will be a candidate to succeed himself is now accepted as a fact by all political factions within the party and by even the most casual political observers as well.

The machinery that will be relied upon to accomplish the nomination of Mr. Harding would have relied upon to extend the self same machinery that Mr. Harding had relied upon to extend his own nomination. Mr. Harding had a "personal" organization of friends and admirers that was at once the admiration and despair of other aspirants, and it is perhaps significant that a great many of these have seen fit to declare their support of the new president for 1924. In this respect at least it is beginning to appear that Mr. Coolidge inherited a great many of

FOG BANK SPOILS PHOTOS OF ECLIPSE

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 11.—The solar eclipse of 1923 was wrecked on the biggest fog bank that has blotted the escutcheon of California climate for September in the weather annals. The eclipse, therefore, was total in a double sense, although the astronomical totality was a matter of faith and imagination somewhat.

Lieutenant John A. MacReady, the famous transcontinental army flier, and Captain A. W. Stevens, most expert of army air photographers, dropped to Rockwell field with the sad words, "nothing doing." They had just returned from a flight to the center of the path of totality east of Escondido, Lower California.

"We went to 16,200 feet," said MacReady, "but there were still clouds above us. There was no prospect of getting above the black masses. Also, with only three and a half minutes of totality there was no time." Lieutenant Leland Webb and Chief Photographer Haas of the naval air station rode through the fog and clouds to a height of 15,500 feet and there, circling serenely in the brilliant sky, they spent three and a half minutes taking motion pictures of the corona and phenomena.

REDS ARE ACTIVE IN GERMAN CITY

Berlin, Sept. 11.—Berlin has been placarded with "Spartacus Letter No. 4," which contains a report on Sunday's shopmen's congress and boasts that the Prussian government was outwitted. The proclamation declares that Chancellor Stresemann and the present government must be overthrown, and that the sole salvation of Germany is a soviet republic closely allied with Russia. The letter demands the summoning of a national shops council congress. The preceding "three Spartacus letters" obviously were circulated surreptitiously throughout the workmen's sections as a substitute for the "Rote Fahne," which was suppressed four days ago.

CHARGES AGAINST MAYOR.

Cincinnati, Sept. 11.—Mayor William Lodge of Silver Lake, Summit county, may be called before Governor Donahoe to explain charges of misfeasance in office which have been leveled against him, the governor indicated. The affidavits against Lodge charge that he was in the habit of issuing search warrants and affidavits for arrest signed in blank, letting his deputy marshals fill in the names and descriptions. It is alleged also that deputy marshals working for Lodge "settled cases out of court."

GIANT AMERICAN-BUILT DIRIGIBLE PERFORMS OVER NEW YORK CITY

Monster Silver-Coated Craft Gives Thrilling Idea of What it Could do to Great Metropolis in Time of War

New York, Sept. 11.—The giant B. Finter and Newton H. Longfellow, silver-coated dirigible, the ZR-1, flying ahead of schedule, passed over the tip of Manhattan island heading north in an airplane above Broadway at 11:43 o'clock (daylight time).

Three airplanes accompanied the ZR-1. Thousands packed roof tops, and all traffic stopped in the streets as the great ship continued its trip up town.

The airplanes were sent from Mitchell field, Long Island, to welcome the ZR-1. They were piloted by Lieutenants E. H. Bartdale, Clyde

As the dirigible passed over the Woolworth tower, it was flying at an altitude of 1,500 feet. Further up the tip of Manhattan island heading north in an airplane above Broadway at 11:43 o'clock (daylight time).

As the ZR-1 sailed up the bay from off Staten Island, ships in the harbor extended a noisy greeting of whistle blasts.

Swinging south at the edge of Yonkers the immense ship of the air nosed over toward the East river, following its line down to the bay. At the tip of the island it once more headed north and soon entered the mouth of the great canyon of Lower Broadway.

The three airplanes from the army field, dipped and twisted about the monster. To the fleet was added the airships of the motion picture news reel photographers who dived about the big ship, seeking to photograph it with the metropolitan area showing below.

The roar of the great motors of the dirigible and the hum of the smaller ships brought wonderstruck workers from office buildings until rooftops were black. Street cars were blocked, so great was the press of the crowds.

It was a practical demonstration of what the ship could do in wartime. Manned by thirty men and guarded by a fleet of planes, such as surrounded the monster as it hovered over America's greatest city today, the ZR-1 clearly showed itself capable of wrecking great destruction. As the navy monster came down the East river, it dipped low, less than 1,000 feet above the great bridges connecting Manhattan with Brooklyn and Queens. The crew could be seen waving to the millions who watched.

The sun playing against her shining silver sides was blinding. In the shadows the ship had the appearance of a giant flying fish.

Hundreds of gulls, attracted in from the sea by the ship's brightness, followed the flight across the island.

On the ship's second turn south Commander McCrary headed her toward the Hudson river, following the line of the Jersey Palisades to a point near Grant's tomb on Riverside drive, where the ship again took the New York shore line.

Keeping on down the Hudson, the ship sailed low over the immigrant station at Ellis Island, where thousands of prospective citizens watched in wonder.

Off the island the dirigible dipped three times in salute to the Statue of Liberty and then swung west on its homeward journey to Lakehurst, having remained over Manhattan island for forty minutes.

The flight of the first American built rigid airship on America's big city was a complete success.

White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 11.—The sensational charge that Walter S. Ward planned to blackmail his father and that he slew Clarence Peters, the ex-marine, in the belief that Peters was a detective sent by the elder Ward to stop the blackmail plot, is expected to be the basis of the state's case against Ward when the murder trial opens here tomorrow.

The trial of Ward will come as the culmination of months of effort on the part of Ward, backed by his father's millions, to prevent the case coming to trial.

George S. Ward, president of the Ward Baking company, married a nurse, Mrs. Donn Laester, a pretty widow of 30, who had attended his first wife in her fatal illness in 1921. The marriage came a few months after Mrs. Ward died. George Ward was then past 50.

In Berlin it is said the situation is not cleared by the report of the Ruhr action taken by the German trades unions in settling definite conditions on which they will abandon their campaign of passive resistance. Those conditions include the return to the occupied regions of all those who were deported, with their families; the release of all prisoners held by the French, and an agreement that reparations must be fixed within the bounds of possible payment.

Despite the critical situation in Germany, it is felt, Berlin would not have ordered the cessation of passive resistance without having received some promise from Paris. This promise, it is believed, must be directly concerned with the terms which France will grant to her prostrate foe.

The German surrender is a vindication of the Poincare policy and is regarded here as another blow to British prestige on the continent. Like other nations on the continent, Germany has found that she must reckon first with France, the dominant military power.

In the masses that gathered on the play ground, crowded the sidewalks and streets leading to the buildings could be seen students seasoned with familiarity of the old buildings and grounds, students who had given up school activities but through some incentive were again anxious to join the ranks pupils from other towns and cities entering Xenia schools or the first time.

PREPARING TO PHOTOGRAPH SUN'S ECLIPSE

Scientists from all parts of the world are flocking to southern California to study the total eclipse of the sun that will occur there on September 10, the first time the phenomenon has been visible in the United States in 54 years. Most of the photographs will be taken at the Theosophical headquarters at Point Loma, near San Diego, where the eclipse will be visible for 2 minutes and 43 seconds. All the delicate instruments from the Mount Wilson Observatory have been set up there. Dr. Oliver J. Lee has set up his coelestare for reflecting light of the sun to the lens of his camera at Catalina Island. The equatorial mounting (of two telescopes) has also been set up there to photograph the eclipse.

LESS THAN HALF OF GREENE COUNTY'S FUND IS RAISED

Something less than half of Greene County's quota for the Japanese Relief fund being collected by the American Red Cross, has been subscribed according to the report of Mrs. Louis M. Allison, chairman of the collection campaign.

So far $600 has been contributed and reported to the organization. It is announced, while the goal has been set tentatively at $1,500. The ready response and the success of the first efforts leads Red Cross officials to the belief that the total amount will be reached before the drive is finished.

The largest amount contributed by any township outside of Xenia City was reported by Silvercreek Township in which Jamestown is the seat. The sum of $65.50 has been subscribed in that section.

An example of the ready sympathy of people toward the stricken Japanese was shown when the Handy Martin Concert Company, which furnished a concert at City Hall Theater in Xenia Monday night, sent $5 to the Red Cross office.

Reports from other districts of the county, received at Red Cross Headquarters, Tuesday morning, included: Miami Township, $55; Cedarville, $52; Spring Valley, $18, and Bellbrook, $37.

The largest amount contributed by any one church was $50.83 subscribed at the First M. E. Church. Campaign workers hope all donations will be in by Wednesday.

WOULD BETTER HEALTH HELP YOU GET THAT SALARY RAISE?

There are lots of people who are neither very sick nor very well, but who seldom really feel at their best. Sleep does not refresh them as it used to and they get up for work feeling drowsy, dull and tired—easily upset with indigestion, nervous and often constipated. Consequently they cannot do their best—they can't put enough strength, energy, ambition and "pep" into their work to become leaders and increase their earnings.

FACE THESE FACTS! Build yourself up! Take a good tonic, as your doctor would advise. Let Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup do for you what this strengthening, nourishing vegetable tonic has accomplished for countless numbers of men and women. Increase your appetite, tone and stimulate your digestion, soothe and nourish the overtaxed nerves, wake up the sluggish liver, gently correct constipation and send purer, healthier blood coursing through your veins.

TRY THIS TONIGHT! Take a delicious tablespoonful of this nourishing, strengthening tonic after the next few meals. Feel like doing a bigger day's work with enough strength, energy and "pep" left over to enjoy evenings with the family. Your druggist will promptly refund the cost unless you really notice a quick difference in the way you look, eat, sleep and feel.

Get it in Xenia at Sayre & Hemphill's and Sohn's Drug Store, and in Jamestown at G. O. Carpenter's.

CAPACITY CROWD TO SEE DEMPSEY AND FIRPO FIGHT

New York, Sept. 11.—Over one million dollars' worth of tickets have been already sold for the Dempsey-Firpo fight this coming Friday night. There is no question of a sell-out, and indications are that more than twice the $5,000 capacity of the Polo grounds could be filled. The $25, $10 and $5 seats are all gone, so tremendous has been the demand, and only $20 and $15 reserve tickets, roughly estimated at $200,000 worth, remain, together with 20,000 general $3 admission tickets to be put on sale at the grounds Friday afternoon. Dempsey's share is figured to run between $400,000 and $500,000, while Firpo is figured to cut in for between $125,000 and $150,000.

FIRPO HAS SORE ARM; NOT WORRIED

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 11.—Luis Angel Firpo was the center of concerned eyes when an ugly looking eruption appeared on his best bet, the mauling right arm. His manager was worried, and so was everybody else, everybody but Luis Angel. The sore, located at about the center of the back of the arm between the elbow and shoulder, originally was a rope burn caused by Luis' playful habit of literally bounding back from the ropes of the ring while boxing with his partners. Such a sore in Dempsey's camp would cause a rush of specialists from New York and elsewhere, but Luis Angel just told Washington, his negro rubber, to put a little more horse liniment and goose grease on the arm after work-out.

FROM HIS LAST PUBLIC MESSAGE.

(Taken from a paper prepared by President Harding and read before a gathering of Knights Templars, only three or four hours before his death, by Mr. Christian.)

I am sure the mission of the beaumont (standard of the Knights Templars) will be a failure if its travels are made simply a matter of symbolism and pageantry. It bears emblazoned upon it the supplication: "Not unto us, O Lord, not unto us; but unto thy name be the glory." We should glorify this holy name not by words, not by praise, not by displays at arms, but by deeds and service in behalf of human brotherhood. Christ, the great exemplar of our order, repeatedly urged this truth upon his hearers. There was nothing mythical or mystical in the code of living preached by Jesus Christ. The lessons he taught were so simple and plain, so fashioned to be marked by the humblest among men, that they appealed to the reason and emotions of all. His words to the fishermen bore conviction to the learned men of the Roman bench. All of his teachings were based upon the broad ground of fraternalism and justice and understanding, from which flows always peace. "A new commandment I give unto you—that ye love one another." Surely this was "all the law and the gospels."

A MOST DESIRABLE QUALITY.

The great immediate object of President Coolidge seems to be "smoothness" in government—a most desirable quality. It is his opinion that, to quote from the dispatches, "the country needs primarily at the present time a feeling of stability, confidence and reassurance and the knowledge that things are going on smoothly."

There is a touch of Lord Melbourne to our new president, for it was Melbourne who, in response to the importunity of an earnest reformer, said: "Can't you let it alone?" Often there is great virtue in letting things alone, especially when people are pressing all sorts of foolish, and some dangerous, themes.

It is also true that things very frequently cure and right themselves. Not always, as Mr. Coolidge, of course, understands. Occasionally it is necessary to act, and to take an affirmative stand.

But the whole of the country will endeavor to co-operate with the president in his campaign for "smoothness." At least it will rejoice that he refuses to be crowded, and does not seem to be in a hurry. We have yet to learn of his capacity for quick action, when action is necessary. But as to that the people are hopeful.

The presidential silence, too, is on the whole welcomed by the people. There are enough orators as it is, enough men who are able to talk loudly, if not wisely, about things to be done. A peaceful White House may have a good effect on the country.

It is believed that already the wave of radicalism in the west is receding, as, of course, it was bound to recede. Perhaps it will be weakened more by neglect than by open attack.

At any rate the presidential temper and method may prove to be very helpful.

WHO WANTS THE ELECTRIC CHAIR?

And, now, there is a great potter as to where they shall locate that electric chair that is going to put out the lives of those men who commit murder in Florida and are finally convicted.

The Legislature, in one of those spasms of reform that so frequently overtake legislative bodies, enacted a law prohibiting hanging as a punishment for capital crime and substituted the electric chair. But it overlooked the fact that to establish the death dealing institution money would be necessary to erect a proper building and establish the necessary machinery, and it did not provide the means.

Meanwhile, something must be done about it. The industry of passing out criminals is about to languish because there is no place where it can be done.

The Governor has suggested that Jacksonville take over the job, as it has a well equipped electric system and a place in which executions can take place. But Jacksonville will have none of it, not Jacksonville. Who in that city wants it understood that the gateway of the state is the place, also, where Florida must send her homicides to be executed? Nothing doing! The Governor is insistent and Jacksonville is stubborn, and so there you are.

THE JOHN BRYAN PARK

Something more than 500 acres of land is contained in the John Bryan park that was given the state under the provisions of the will left by John Bryan of Yellow Springs. Three times the governor of Ohio refused to accept the gift, generous and valuable as it was, because of some provisions in the will to which objections had been made. But the last legislature accepted the gift and it is the property of the state. Because it has 200 acres of virgin timber, one of the notable bits of original forest to be found in the state, it has been put under the control of the State Forestry Board and has become a forestry station and experimental farm. That the property has an enormous value because of its size, the wonderful scenery about it and the vast amount of forest, is well known, and with it the forestry department hopes to arouse a larger interest in forestry, its value and the certainty that reforestation can be done successfully.

As a part of the movement to induce tree lovers and advocates of forestry to visit the farm and receive the inspiration a stay there will produce, the annual campfire of the members of the State Forestry Association has been located on that place this year. It will take place on Sept. 21 and 22, the plan being to have lovers of trees gather on Friday, live in the woods that day, have a campfire dinner that evening, sleep in the woods that night and rest from a day spent in traveling about the great farm. The state forester, Edmund Secrest of Wooster, has sent invitations to all tree lovers in the Forestry Association to come and get a view of these broad acres and the noble forests there to be found. If the weather is rough there will be sleeping quarters found in the barn, said to be the largest barn in the world, that was one of the prized improvements the original owner provided.

It will be worth the trip for lovers of forestry and the outdoor life. It is easy to reach the farm by traction from Xenia or Springfield, and a couple of days spent there will make a delightful outing, a night in the woods will be a real experience and familiarity with this latest gift to the state will be a abundant repayment for the time spent on the trip. A number of property holders on Detroit Street, north of Church Street, want the paving which is being planned for North Detroit Street, extended out further than Church Street. As has been planned all along that portion of street north of Church was to be improved by gravel. The Hooven & Allison Company is arranging to occupy the vacant room in the Steele building on West Main Street, which for a time served as the county recorder's office. The work house, boarders are on the increase. A few days ago the number had been reduced to nine but five new ones have been received in the past day or two. The Xenia township schools open next Monday, the term this year being for 8 1/2 months.

Mrs. P. B.: "Please publish a recipe for Mint Sauce to serve with meats. If there is a charge for this kindly state the amount."

Answer: There is never a charge or any help that I can give my readers. Here is the recipe: Hot Mint Sauce: Boil one-half pint of vinegar till it is reduced one-half, then add to it one and one-half tablespoons of brown sugar, one-half cup of water, a pinch of salt and two tablespoons of finely-chopped tender young spearmint. Bring to boiling point, and serve. Here is a recipe for Cold Mint Sauce: Wash one cup of tender green spearmint then chop it fine and crush into it, one-half cup of brown sugar. Let stand 15 minutes then add one cup of vinegar and one teaspoon of salt. Let stand one hour before serving. (Especially good on lamb.) If you cannot obtain fresh, green mint ask your grocer for the dried mint which comes in small packages, inexpensively. If he does not carry it, write to me, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for personal reply and will gladly send you the name of a New York firm which will sell dried mint by mail.

Worried Mother: "Kindly let me know how to get rid of bed bugs. I have them in only one bed. Is it true that some people breed them?" Answer: The best way is to spray gasoline on bed-frame and mattress. Gasoline is inflammable, however, so must not be used near heat or flame. A reader of this column recently sent me the following formula, which I believe is equally as good as gasoline—perhaps better: — Persian Powder and Borax mixed together in equal parts and applied by means of a powder gun will exterminate bed bugs. It is perfectly harmless to everything but the bugs. If it were my bed, and the bugs had not yet spread to the walls of the room, I would be strongly tempted to get rid of the mattress and springs, if these measures fail. For bed bugs are very persistent and extremely hard

A Reader: "I have found it impossible to buy a rocker and straight chair, in my vicinity, to go with a birdseye maple bedroom set. Could you tell me how to cover chairs with cretonne, to be used in place of the maple?"

Answer: Why don't you buy a willow or wicker straight chair and rocker, and decorate these with back-pad and seat-pad of cretonne? It is impossible to tell you how to cover an entire chair with cretonne. You would have to be shown how.

MRS. G. W. HALL SICK FOR YEARS

Wants Women to Know How She Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lima, Ohio.—"Indeed, your medicine is all you say it is! I had very severe troubles such as women often have, and could do no heavy work. I was sick for several years, and from reading your ads. I finally decided to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now doing my own washing, which I haven't done for several years, and can walk long distances without those dragging pains and weak feelings. The Vegetable Compound is fine, and I never forget to say a good word for it to other women when they say they need something."—Mrs. G. W. HALL, 539 Hazel Avenue, Lima, Ohio.

There are many women who find their household duties almost unbearable owing to some weakness or derangement. The trouble may be slight, yet cause such annoying symptoms as dragging pains, weakness and a run-down feeling. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for such conditions. It has in many cases relieved those symptoms by removing the cause of them. Mrs. Hall's experience is but one of many.

Just Folks by Edgar A. Guest

The papers print a column which they call "Twenty-five Years Ago Today." And time was I read it and thought,

"How queer Such strange events should have happened here."

I mocked at my father, who smiled and said: "I was there when 'this happened,' or shook his head. At some ancient record, to indicate The truth of a tale of some by-gone date.

Oh, it seemed in youth they could not be so, Those stories of twenty-five years ago; Then "Twenty-five years ago today" Seemed ever and ever so far away.

But I'm getting old, and it can't be hid, I'm shaking my head as my father did

As I find them printing the things I know As the record of twenty-five years ago.

And the children stare as my head they pat And, surprised they question, "Did you see that?" They think it strange that a man should say He saw things twenty-five years ago today.

Oh, it's not so long. Just a flick, that's all! You may think it great but it's really small, And you'll find it out when the papers tell Some ancient news you remember well.

Today's Talk

YOUR DOORS

Every time you think or speak, you let out something into the world.

Many of the most influential figures in history have been the silent men and women—those who radiated without talking.

Your eyes are doors. How much comes out of a pair of eyes that could come out in no other way! Eyes talk, admonish, melt in sympathy, fire with indignation, warm with love, inspire by their ability to look right into people's faces and into the face of the world.

Your mouth is a door. Sometimes just a handful of words, fitly spoken and sent out through such a door, have traveled around the world and touched the lives of millions.

You never know how far or how deeply any of your words will go or sink. They may travel quickly to the farthestmost parts of the world, or simply dig their way into some heart by heart and there lodge and grow to something very wonderful as though in some silent garden.

Then your mind, too, has doors, and so has your heart.

We seem to be a house of doors. I'm glad we are, for this makes possible a life of such varied achievement and association.

Through the doors of our eyes, our minds, our hearts, our mouths, may come and go the beauties and expressions and words of all the world.

And if you are made happy by what comes into your doors, think how happy others will be to receive something of you through their doors.

BAYLIFF WILL DON BLACK SHIRT SUNDAY TO BREAK BAD LUCK

By Wones
 The Xenia Bayliffs will meet the fast Harshmanville baseball team Sunday at Washington Park in the deciding game of the three-game series.

The Bayliffs captured the first conflict here by a 2 to 1 score in a game that was full of excitement. The Harshman bunch, with the aid of "Tex" Tewell, evened up the series last Sunday and sent the local nine down to defeat at Harshmanville by a 4 to 3 score. Both of these games were real battles. Both look to be about evenly matched but the locals possess a good scoring punch at critical times.

In the first game the Harshman bunch was the first to score. The locals then tied it up and won out in the seventh inning. Over at Harshman Sunday again and this time it was a fair of tattles. The Bayliffs came back in the lucky seventh and staged a rally that netted them three runs—just enough to win. However in the last round with one man out Herman blew up and the fans know the rest.

Sunday's game should be an interesting fray as both teams have been putting up a nice brand of ball. The Bayliffs will have their own lineup and playing on their own grounds they feel sure they can hand Sam Harshman's outfit the short end of the score. Manager Roy Bayliff will not wear his new white shirt and collar down at Washington Park Sunday but will don his black shirt, the one he is accustomed to having on his back at all his games. "Jew" thinks that the white shirt he wore Sunday brought bad luck.

Manager Bayliff will start Curt Free. A long rest generally does Curt's soupbone good and he will no doubt be in the pink for the week ends clash. Bob Herman will also be available for mound duty. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock with Norris and Clark in charge. Bayliff had a hard time in landing the Harshman bunch to show at Washington Park so the fans should turn out and support the club as it is worthy of it. The same price of admission will be charged.

FORTY FOUR GRID CANDIDATES ANSWER BURGNER'S FIRST CALL AT CENTRAL HIGH

Forty-four candidates, among them seven letter men from last year's squad, answered Coach Earl "Puss" Burgner's first call for gridiron material at Central High School Monday evening.

The meeting was held in the high school gym and Coach Burgner announced that first practice would be held at the new Cox Memorial Athletic Field Tuesday evening. Fundamentals of the game and an explanation of the new rules were given by Coach Burgner in chalk talk to candidates.

Out of the pennants of two of the best football teams that ever represented the local school, the local mentor has the task of building a successful eleven. The 1921 team under Coach Jerry L. Katherman won the Class B championship of southwestern Ohio and was awarded the silver cup offered by Miami University. Coach Burgner's initial attempt here won the same cup a second time last year. It is necessary to win the cup three successive times to gain permanent possession of the trophy and with the majority of the stars graduated this feat presents itself as particularly difficult.

From the 1921 team went Paul Boxwell, Reutinger, Purdom, McCallister, Lones, Hendrickson and other stars. Graduation last June took Don Currie, Randall, Woolary, Hollencamp, Cowan, Smith, Zell, Ballentine and Yeakley quit school. Hendrickson, giant tackle of two years ago, is expected to return to school this fall. Arthur Currie, for three years a quarterback, will not return until the middle of the season and will probably be lost to the squad. The other letter men returning are Schwab, Holton, Horner, Edwards, Zell, Botoroff, and Washburn. Of these only Zell was a regular.

Among the promising new candidates is Arnold Boxwell, brother of Paul Boxwell, who is expected to shine if he follows in his brother's footsteps. Others who have had experience are the Jordan twins, Howard and Harold, Chandler, Scurry, Fulkerson, Hitchcock and few others. Geo. McKay is student-manager. P. T. A. OUTLINES WORK FOR YEAR AT MEETING MONDAY

Tentative plans for an extensive program of work during the coming year, were laid at a meeting of the Federated Parent-Teacher Association of the Xenia City Schools held at the office of Superintendent of City Schools, C. A. Walz, Monday afternoon.

Representatives of every Parent-Teacher organization of the city, including the Spring Hill Association, which is not included in the Federation, attended the meeting. The meeting was held on the opening day of school, the organizations uniting to start immediate plans for the year's work.

Outstanding among the important year's plans laid at the meeting, was that of the assumption of the financing of the work of the Opportunity School, by the Parent-Teacher Association. Forty five pupils have been placed in the Opportunity School, and the association will aid the School Board in feeding, clothing and caring for the pupils.

The association will continue the work begun last year, that of feeding a luncheon of milk to all undernourished children of the first three grades, of all the city schools. The plan was inaugurated last year, and met with decided success.

Combined with the health program of the association, will be the employment of the visiting nurse for the city schools, who will make regular visits to all the schools, regulating the weight, diet, and physical condition of the pupils. The Parent-Teacher Association will co-operate with the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs of the city, in the employment of the nurse, who will be supervised by the School Board.

Members of the School Board are planning to confer with officers of the two clubs, in connection with the employment of the nurse.

The plans laid Monday provide for the installation of a playground device on each of the school playgrounds in the city, by the Parent-Teacher Association. A fund will be devoted to the purchase of playground equipment according to officers of the federation.

Arrangements for the event have been under way for months and the programme for the Petroleum Congress sessions October 9 and 10 will include addresses by some of the most notable figures in the industry. MR. SAMUEL C. OLDHAM,
REYNOLDSBURG, OHIO.

Mr. Samuel C. Oldham, a well-known farmer of Reynoldsburg, Ohio, tells an interesting story of his experience with Ka-di-ok. Mr. Oldham, who owns his own farm, has been running it for 32 years. He is a man of sterling character and is highly esteemed by his friends and neighbors. His statement, therefore, will carry a great deal of weight by all who know him. He says: "I am feeling much better today than I have felt for the past five years, at which time I was operated on at Grant Hospital for appendicitis, at that time my condition was very critical as peritonitis set in and almost carried me off. Since the time I recovered from this operation, I never felt right as my stomach was continually out of order and I was always more or less constipated. After eating my food fermented and caused me to have pains around my heart. I was in a weak and nervous condition and although I tried a number of remedies and took the best possible care of myself, I failed to get better. A short while back I heard so many favorable reports about Ka-di-ok that I started taking it and am happy to say that it has helped me wonderfully. I have no further pains with indigestion and I am a great deal stronger. I have five children in my family and they are all convinced that there is no better remedy in the world than Ka-di-ok, as they know what it has done for me."

"You are at liberty to publish this testimonial as I want others to know what a fine remedy Ka-di-ok really is."

representatives of all branches of the industry. Heretofore the producers, refiners and marketers have held their sectional meetings separately.

HISTORICAL EXHIBITS

The exposition phase of the affair will include historical exhibits, tracing the history of the industry from the drilling of Drake's first oil well in 1859 down to the present. The drilling tools used by Colonel Drake will be exhibited alongside modern drilling equipment. There will be complete drilling outfits representing the three methods used for putting down wells—the standard cable tool, rotary and diamond core drill. These will be in operation.

In the scientific and technical displays will be exhibits showing various phases of the business coming within the realm of science. One feature being planned is a miniature refinery in operation, another a gasoline plant operating, a third a complete chemical and physical testing laboratory in operation. Models of tank cars and tank steamers, cracking stills, geological and engineering displays and photographic assemblies from various oil fields of the United States and foreign countries.

COMPREHENSIVE SHOW

Practically all the manufacturers of oil well, refining and marketing equipment in the country will be represented in the booths which make up the manufacturers' section of the exposition.

Parades and pageantry also will make up a part of the programme. One of the spectacles will be the entry of "King Petroleum" on the opening day of the exposition. On another day will be a parade of floats depicting various eras in the development of the industry. As a finale to the pageantry, "Queen Petroleum" will be crowned on the afternoon of the closing day. There will be a beauty contest and style show, in addition to two "Hippodrome" performances, each day.

A large group of buildings of steel construction is being erected for the exposition. Railroads throughout the country are granting special low rates for visitors.

Conventions of ten different organizations allied with the petroleum industry will be held in Tulsa during the week of the exposition.

BIBLE READINGS IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Teachers in Xenia city schools Tuesday morning began the same Bible reading program that has been followed in the schools here for the last three years.

School officials announced that sectarianism is not permitted to be manifested in any form by the teachers, but "only the broad conceptions and practices of the Christian religion are to be given place."

A program of Bible readings has been made out and is to be followed by the teachers.

GIVE JAZZ PROGRAM

Blues that make the feet of white folk shuffle on the Mississippi River boats at Memphis, Tenn., where W. C. Handy and his band held forth, were interpreted for a Xenia audience by Handy's Band at City Hall Theater Monday night.

"Memphis Blues," Beale St. Blues" and others were played but the feature number was the famous "Bugle Blues" one of Handy's biggest hits.

Sara Martin, who has invaded the homes of all music lovers with the phonographic interpretations of her "blues" singing was also a big feature of the concert.

The concert was a perfect offering of modern "jazz" music. It was poorly attended.

ASK EX-SERVICE MEN OF CITY TO ATTEND LEGION MEETING

Thurman "Dusty" Miller, column conductor and editor of the Wilmington News Journal, whose trite sayings are widely quoted, will entertain members of Joseph P. Foody Post, No. 95, American Legion, at legion hall, Detroit and Second streets, Thursday evening.

Dr. B. R. McClellan, Post Commander, who is arranging this series of monthly entertainments to spend up attendance at post meetings, believes the program Thursday evening will draw the biggest crowd that has yet attended. Following the talk by "Dusty," there will be a Dutch luncheon and a social session to renew acquaintances and make new friends. Good music will also be provided.

Cards have been sent out by Dr. McClellan asking Legionnaires to express themselves as to their attendance but the meeting is not confined to Legion members, according to the Post Commander. All ex-service men will be guests of the Post at the entertainment.

Styles BY LENORE

Dull silk braid is used to excellent advantage in bringing out the fashion points of a satin crepe gown which makes a bid for the favor of the older woman.

In the classic line of the neck the bell finish of the sleeve, the almost normal waistline, the design takes its cut from the very latest tendencies in the new fall clothes, and the peplum has as its authority in several models with similar treatment which appeared at the Paris openings.

This Fall it seems the smart thing to start the season with black. In this instance a soft shade of corn yellow is brought to the relief, in the form of a floral design applied on the side of the peplum and in the facing of the sleeves.

Flat crepes are holding their own in fall exhibits of silk dresses, but there are a number of new materials which will be liked by those who favor conservative novelties. One, a silk crepe which is ribbed very finely. Another, Jaqueline crepe, bears a Jacquard design in self-tones.

RED LEADER WARNS WORKERS.

Berlin, Sept. 11.—"If the masses of workmen don't join our ranks soon, I do not hesitate to give notice that I will drag them out of their houses by force, if necessary. Workingmen have only a few days in which to volunteer, and if they don't they will be commanded with the bayonet to volunteer." This was the striking part of an address made to the Saxon socialist and communist "organizations for self-defense" by their commander at the parade grounds at Dresden.

BRINGING UP FATHER

GERMAN-AMERICAN MAKES STRANGE BEQUEST

Costume for aged. INTL.

A wealthy German-American, a native of Wunsiedel, in northern Bavaria, has made a strange bequest to his native town. He bequeathed a large sum of money for the erection of a home for the aged and indigent males, with the clause, however, that all inmates would have to wear, during their lifetime and regardless of the season, a special costume, minutely described in his will. This photograph shows the strange costume—a sort of knickerbocker suit, with a loose, sleeveless coat and queerly shaped felt hats.

FORMER CEDARVILLE PASTOR RESIGNS

special congregational meeting of the Union Presbyterian Church in Endicott, N. Y. has been called to next Wednesday night, September 12, it is announced, to act on the resignation of the pastor, the Rev. Robert C. Galbreath, D. D.

Dr. Galbreath suffered a prolonged illness, beginning early last spring and continuing into the summer, when he recovered strength sufficiently to enable him to return to his former home in Cedarville, Ohio. It was hoped that with continued improvement, he would be able to resume his pastorate here this month, but recently Dr. Galbreath, feeling that a long time might elapse before he could fully perform pastoral duties forwarded his resignation. Dr. Galbreath returned to Endicott early last week and expects to remain here until after the meeting of September 12.

A WIFE'S STORY

By Jane Phelps

PAUL GOES ABROAD CHAPTER XXIV

What Evelyn said about Paul doing some sort of literary work lingered in my mind. He was clever, educated. Perhaps he would be happier, feel more interest if his work were congenial.

When he came home, not until the next day, I spoke of it to him:

"Why not get out some literary work, Paul, articles or short stories? You don't like business, don't believe you ever will, but that would be right in your line. All the years you put on your book would not be wasted if it fitted you for some sort of remunerative writing."

"To hear you talk one would think the wolf was already at the door. That kind of work is only pot-boilers except for the fellows old in the game. Do stop fretting. Unless all signs fail you'll have something real to think of soon."

"What do you mean?" I asked.

"I mean we are going to get into the war, and mighty soon."

"That would give you still a greater chance to do such work," I replied, still unbelieving, my mind on our immediate needs.

"Do stop nagging! I've got enough to think about tonight without listening to fault-finding."

I longed to ask him what it was, but instead left him to smoke and think while I put on the dinner. All through dinner, and afterward, he was distracted, absorbed in his thoughts. In the morning too, he was unlike himself. Was there really something going on? And was it to be good or bad as it affected us, me, and the children?

That night the newspapers held the momentous news: we were going to take our part in the war. But even then this news, terrible as it must be for all Americans, was overshadowed for the moment by the news of what Paul was going to do. He was going abroad immediately, to serve as a secretary to one of the societies that already had quarters on the other side.

"You see what an education means he said. 'I got the job because I speak French fluently. It will be great to see Paris again.'"

"But, Paul, what will we do? We leave us. You can't! Even Mr. Logan leave us. You can't! Even Mr. Logan said they could not draft you."

"Draft nothing! I am going in a different capacity altogether. It's all settled so don't howl. You and the children can stay here or you can go home to your folks, just as you choose. I'll send you part of my pay, of course."

"How much are you to get?" the old question, and he gave me the old answer:

"An air salary, but I'd go for even less. It makes me feel like a boy to think of being in Paris again; and no one can tell to what going at this time may lead."

"When do you go?"

"At once. We sail day after tomorrow."

It was all settled, nothing remained for me to do but pack Paul's things. He gave me a month's rent, and a little besides. I asked him to promise to send me money regularly, which he did willingly enough.

Then he was gone. Just before he left he was very loving, very affectionate. I was not to worry, everything would go along all right. He kissed the children carelessly, promising to bring them something from "gay Paris."

He had scarcely been two days at sea before tradesmen began to bother me. It had been rumored about that he had gone, would be away indefinitely. It seemed he had given them only a little each month, a sop to Cerberus, and so had kept them quiet; me from knowing. But as soon as they knew he was gone they swooped down upon me. I dared not use the rent money, but gave them all I could, then sat down to plan how to live. I had not much faith in his remittances, in view of the circumstances. If he had anything left after he used what he wanted of his salary he would send it I knew; but would he have anything left?

The war, my country's troubles, receded into the dim distance in view of my own pressing needs. And anyway this is not a war story, but my story.

A week, two weeks passed, then in desperation I telephoned Logan. Perhaps he would help me find something to do, advise me.

"Mr. Logan has had a bad accident, is in the hospital with a broken leg and other injuries. It will be weeks before he is out," I was told. To be Continued

ANOTHER TEACHER IS NOW NEEDED

Unusually large enrollment at Spring Hill School will necessitate the appointment of another teacher at that school, it was announced Tuesday by C. A. Waltz, school superintendent.

Grades three and five of that school have a total of 112 children enrolled and will have to be divided, so that three teachers will have charge of the combined grades instead of two. The extra teacher has not been appointed.

A large enrollment is also shown at McKinley School, where 67 are registered in the first grade. No extra teacher will be appointed there for the present, it being believed that some of the children will be found not of school age and eliminated. Children must be six years of age or their sixth birthday must come before December 1, to make them eligible to begin school.

TROTZKY REPORTED KILLED

SOVIET OFFICER ASSASSINATED AVERS DISPATCH

Founder of Bolshevism and
ernment

NOT FIRST RUMOR

He and Lenine Have Been Reported Killed Several Times

London, Sept. 11.—Leon Trotzky, commissar for war in the Russian soviet government, is reported to have been assassinated, according to a Central News dispatch from Berlin this afternoon.

The report was said to have been received in Berlin from Moscow. Trotzky and Nikolai Lenin were the chief founders of bolshevism in Russia and government figures in the soviet government. Trotzky conducted the military affairs; Lenin the political movements.

Trotzky and Lenine have both been reported assassinated many times in the past. Lenine was wounded by a girl named Dora Kaplan who shot him in the shoulder. Shots were fired at Trotzky but they missed.

Trotzky completely reorganized the Russian army after the revolution, but it was defeated in war with Poland. Then he undertook intensive reorganization and is said to have reduced it from 1,000,000 to 500,000, relieving all unfit troops from duty.

In March Trotzky was reported very ill from an abdominal complaint. Charles R. Crane, an American, who reached London from Moscow in March, brought word that Trotzky was so sick he probably would die before the end of this year.

The Russian trade delegation here had no confirmation of the report and discredited it.

recent utterances indicate that his hat is in the ring for the Republican nomination for the Presidency in 1924.

SAYS COOLIDGE FAVORS WORLD COURT PROGRAM

First Commitment From President on Important Question

Washington, Sept. 11.—President Coolidge favors America's entry into the world court.

This declaration was made at the white house by the Rev. Dr. William E. Barton of Oak Park, Ill., moderator of the Congressional church of the United States, immediately following a lengthy conference with the president. It was the first commitment on this question, either directly or indirectly, from the president since he assumed the executive office.

Dr. Barton declared that the president clearly gave him to understand that he intends to follow out the policies of President Harding on the world court and a general declaration that the Harding policies will be carried through was intended to include this subject. Dr. Barton, who heads the religious denomination of which the president and his family are communicants, is an ardent advocate both of the league of nations and the world court.

It is believed that President Coolidge will resubmit the Harding-Hughes proposal for American membership in the world court to the senate when it convenes in December.

Chairman Adams of the Republican national committee saw the president for the first time since his return to Washington last week. Following his conference he announced that the national committee will be called to meet in Washington the second week in December to fix the time and place of the 1924 national convention. At that time all cities bidding for the meeting will be given full opportunity to present their claims, the chairman said. Chicago appears to have the best look in. Fred Upham, treasurer of the national committee, already is said to claim enough advance pledges to insure Chicago's selection. Cleveland appears the most aggressive contender with Chicago. Ohioans are urging that city as a tribute to the late President Harding.

AMERICAN EXPORTS TO JAPAN TO BE TRIPIED DURING YEAR

Washington, Sept. 11.—American exports to Japan will be tripled at least during the coming year as a result of the empire's great catastrophe, officials at the Japanese embassy predicted today.

The bulk of the empire's imports will be materials for use in rebuilding her devastated cities. The prospective American trade to Japan during the next 12 months will total $1,500,000,000, it was estimated.

Embassy records revealed the U. S. as Japan's greatest market for outgoing commerce for twenty years past while Japan has purchased more raw materials from the United States than from any other nation for the last seven years. Total normal trade between the two nations has passed the billion dollar mark since 1920.

TOKIO REGAINING COMPOSURE; WATER SYSTEM RESTORED

Shanghai, Sept. 11.—Ten days have elapsed since the cities of Tokio and Yokohama were almost completely wiped out by the earthquake and fire.

Relief work is gradually overcoming the distress suffered by the millions of Japanese and hundreds of Americans and other foreigners.

Food is at last becoming more plentiful. Every train and ship arriving in the stricken zone is docking its quota of supplies. The public parks of the capital city and the nation's famous seaport city resemble huge military barracks. Here countless thousands are being temporarily housed and fed.

First reports of the total casualties now appear to have been greatly exaggerated, but it is more than likely that the exact number of lives lost will never be known. Thousands of victims, injured in the collapse of their homes, were unable to escape and were cremated in the fiery whirlwind which swept the two cities and surrounding suburbs.

At this writing the death list in Tokio alone is conservatively estimated at between 25,000 and 30,000. The estimates of dead and injured at Yokohama varies from 30,000 to 100,000. No official figures are obtainable.

Japanese residents in China, foreigners and Chinese immediately responded to the urgent calls from Tokio and Yokohama for relief. As fast as double crews can load ships with rice, Japan's principal foodstuff, they are dispatched to the stricken sections.

Order prevails in Tokio and Yokohama, reports of late looting and pillaging to the contrary, according to official word received here by the Japanese consulate.

With the restoration of the water system a long step toward checking the possibilities of plague has been made, according to a statement received here from the home minister at Tokio. It is expected that the cholera and dysentery menace will be sufficiently checked to prevent the scourge of plague.

RUHR WORKERS' TERMS.

Cologne, Sept. 11.—The chairman of the Essen German trades unions announces that the passive resistance in the Ruhr will be abandoned on three conditions: The return to their homes of all those who have been deported from the occupied regions, with their families; release of all prisoners; the summary rejection of any attempt to infringe on the sovereign rights of the reich and the revocation of all laws which limit the acceptance of economic reparations, with liability fixed within bounds possible of fulfillment.

BELIEVE DISASTER TO NAVAL VESSELS CAUSED BY QUAKE

Washington, Sept. 11.—Reports to the navy department failed to establish with any degree of definiteness the cause of the stranding of the seven destroyers, which were swept on the rocks of southern California coast late Sunday night.

A reaction from the Japanese earthquake and tidal wave was advanced by high naval officials as a possible cause of the disaster. Confusion of the radio signals or changes in the tides, resulting from the seismic disturbance across the Pacific, were also suggested as having been partly responsible for the greatest peace time casualty in the navy's history. "We don't know but some agitation due to the earthquake and tidal wave may have caused it," Secretary Denby said. "It may have been a tidal wave that hit them."

Within the past week, following the disaster in Japan, reports have been received from the Pacific coast of heavy seas and high waves which have been observed at points along the shore. According to high naval opinion, these disturbances may have been encountered by the destroyer fleet, throwing the vessels off their course and laying them at the mercy of swift tides which had been previously unknown along that part of the coast.

MUSSOLINI AGAIN BALKS ON PLANS

London, Sept. 11.—It is learned here that Premier Mussolini now refuses to accept the understanding reached by the ambassadors' conference Friday last that Corfu be evacuated by Italy as soon as Greece has accepted in full the decision of the conference by paying £500,000 into court. Mussolini argues that there will be no evacuation of Corfu until all the proceedings connected with the Janina murders are terminated. The British government declines to accept this interpretation and in the event of Mussolini not receding from his attitude insists that the matter come up at Geneva for the league of nations' decision.

ROYAL MARRIAGE ARRANGED.

Cuba's President Faces Serious Crisis

President Alfredo Zayas, of Cuba, is facing a serious crisis, both inside his island and in his relations with the United States Government, which are admitted to be strained.

FRIENDS OF COOLIDGE LAYING GROUNDWORK FOR NOMINATION

Washington, Sept. 11.—Quietly and without any tooting of horns, the friends of Calvin Coolidge have begun to lay the groundwork for his nomination by the Republican convention ten months hence. The work is getting well under way.

That he will be a candidate to succeed himself is now accepted as a fact by all political factions within the party and by even the most casual political observers as well. The machinery that will be reeled upon to accomplish the nomination of extent the self same machinery that Mr. Harding would have relied upon had he lived. Mr. Harding had a "personal" organization of friends and admirers that was at once the admiration and despair of other aspirants, and it is perhaps significant that a great many of these have seen fit to declare their support of the new president for 1924. In this respect at least it is beginning to appear that Mr. Coolidge inherited a great many of

Monster Silver-Coated Craft Gives Thrilling Idea of What it Could do to Great Metropolis In Time of War

New York, Sept. 11.—The giant silver-coated dirigible, the ZR-1, flying ahead of schedule, passed over the tip of Manhattan island heading north in an airplane above Broadway at 11:43 o'clock (daylight time). Three airplanes accompanied the ZR-1. Thousands packed roof tops, and all traffic stopped in the streets as the great ship continued its trip up town.

The airplanes were sent from Mitchell field, Long Island, to welcome the ZR-1. They were piloted by Lieutenants E. H. Bartdale, Clyde

B. Finter and Newton H. Longfellow. As the dirigible passed over the Woolworth tower, it was flying at an altitude of 1,600 feet. Further up town the ship dipped slightly.

As the ZR-1 sailed up the bay from off Staten Island, ships in the harbor extended a noisy greeting of whistles and blasts.

Swinging south at the edge of Yonkers the immense ship of the air nosed over toward the East river, following its line down to the bay. At the tip of the island it once more headed north and soon entered the mouth of the great canyon of Lower Broadway.

The three airplanes from the army field, dipped and twisted about the monster. To the fleet was added the airships of the motion picture news reel photographers who dived about the big ship, seeking to photograph it with the metropolitan area showing below.

The roar of the great motors of the dirigible and the hum of the smaller ships brought wonderstruck workers from office buildings until rooftops were black. Street cars were blocked, so great was the press of the crowds.

It was a practical demonstration of what the ship could do in wartime. Manned by thirty men and guarded by a fleet of planes, such as surrounded the monster as it hovered over America's greatest city today, the ZR-1 clearly showed itself capable of wrecking great destruction. As the navy monster came down the East river, it dipped low, less than 1,000 feet above the great bridges connecting Manhattan with Brooklyn and Queens. The crew could be seen waving to the millions who watched.

The sun playing against her shining silver sides was blinding. In the shadows the ship had the appearance of a giant flying fish.

Hundreds of gulls, attracted in from the sea by the ship's brightness, followed the flight across the island.

On the ship's second turn south Commander McCrary headed her toward the Hudson river, following the line of the Jersey Fallades to a point near Grant's tomb on Riverside drive, where the ship again took the New York shore line.

Keeping on down the Hudson, the ship sailed low over the immigrant station at Ellis Island, where thousands of prospective citizens watched in wonder.

Off the island the dirigible dipped three times in salute to the Statue of Liberty and then swung west on its homeward journey to Lakehurst, having remained over Manhattan island for forty minutes.

The flight of the first American built rigid airship on America's big city was a complete success.

WARD TO GO ON TRIAL IN NEW YORK

White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 11.—The sensational charge that Walter S. Ward planned to blackmail his father and that he slew Clarence Peters, the ex-marine, in the belief that Peters was a detective sent by the elder Ward to stop the blackmail plot, is expected to be the basis of the state's case against Ward when the murder trial opens here tomorrow.

The trial of Ward will come as the culmination of months of effort on the part of Ward, backed by his father's millions, to prevent the case coming to trial.

George S. Ward, president of the Ward Baking company, married a nurse, Mrs. Donn Laester, a pretty widow of 30, who had attended his first wife in her fatal illness in 1921. The marriage came a few months after Mrs. Ward died. George Ward was then past 50.

VOICES PLEA FOR HEAVY PENALTIES

Columbus, O., Sept. 11.—Asserting that the federal dry act "carries hopelessly inadequate penalties for its commercial violations," Mrs. Mable Walker Whitebrandt, Washington, D. C., assistant U. S. attorney general, addressing the national W. C. T. U. convention here, voiced a plea for heavier penalties for bootleggers and other dry law violators.

"A bootlegger can make millions of dollars in the unlawful sale of liquor and if we charge him under the Volstead act, all the punishment the judge can impose is a one thousand dollar fine and six months in jail," said Mrs. Whitebrandt.

SOVIET GIVES UP BESSARABIA

Helsingfors, Sept. 11.—The soviet government has agreed to give up its claim to Bessarabia to Rumania. The Dulster river will be the new frontier.

FOG BANK SPOILS PHOTOS OF ECLIPSE

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 11.—The solar eclipse of 1923 was wrecked on the biggest fog bank that has blotted the escutcheon of California climate for September in the weather annals. The eclipse, therefore, was total in a double sense, although the astronomical totality was a matter of faith and imagination somewhat.

Lieutenant John A. MacReady, the famous transcontinental army flier, and Captain A. W. Stevens, most expert of army air photographers, dropped to Rockwell field with the sad words, "nothing doing." They had just returned from a flight to the center of the path of totality east of Escondido, Lower California.

"We went to 15,300 feet," said MacReady, "but there were still clouds above us. There was no prospect of getting above the black masses. Also with only three and a half minutes of totality there was no time."

Lieutenant Leland Webb and Chief Photographer Haas of the naval air station rode through the fog and clouds to a height of 15,500 feet and there, circling serenely in the brilliant sky, they spent three and a half minutes taking motion pictures of the corona and phenomena.

REDS ARE ACTIVE IN GERMAN CITY

Berlin, Sept. 11.—Berlin has been placarded with "Spartacus Letter No. 4," which contains a report on Sunday's shopmen's congress and boasts that the Prussian government was outwitted. The proclamation declares that Chancellor Stresemann and the present government must be overthrown, and that the sole salvation of Germany is a soviet republic closely allied with Russia. The letter demands the summoning of a national shops council congress. The preceding "three Spartacus letters" previously were circulated surreptitiously throughout the workingmen's sections as a substitute for the "Rote Fahne," which was suppressed four days ago.

CHARGES AGAINST MAYOR.

Columbus, Sept. 11.—Mayor William Lodge of Silver Lake, Summit county, may be called before Governor Denney to explain charges of misfeasance in office which have been filed against him, the governor indicated. The affidavits against Lodge charge that he was in the habit of issuing search warrants and affidavits for arrest signed in blank, letting his deputy marshals fill in the names and descriptions. It is alleged also that deputy marshals working for Lodge "settled cases out of court."

RECORD IS BROKEN FOR SPEED IN AIR

New York, Sept. 11.—A new world's record for airplane speed was set when the navy Wright flier, which will represent the navy in the Pulitzer race at St. Louis next month, flew 235 miles an hour in a test flight at Mineola, L. I. The best previous mile was made by Sadi Lecoq, French flier, in Paris, Feb. 15 last. The new record was made in a straightaway flight, without the advantage of a dive from altitude for a start, and was closely timed. Lieutenant L. H. Sanderson, who drove the record mile, will carry the navy's colors at the Pulitzer event, Oct. 1, 2 and 3.

NAVIES DEPEND ON ELEMENT OF CHANCE

London, Sept. 11.—"The disaster to the American destroyer flotilla Sunday is the most extraordinary happening in naval history," says the London Daily News in an editorial. "In the space of a few minutes the American navy suffered a loss greater than it did during the whole period of the war," continues the editorial, which concludes: "The reflection suggested by this regrettable misfortune is the dependence on chance by even the best equipped and most ably commanded modern naval units. A sudden storm catching the British fleet at a disadvantage might in a single day reduce us from a first-class to a third-class power."

BALKAN SITUATION IS GROWING ACUTE

London, Sept. 11.—Albania has rejected the Greek ultimatum that the assassins of General Tellini, Italian president of the Italian boundary commission, be delivered up within five days, said a dispatch from Athens this afternoon.

The Albanian government declared it has information that the assassins were Greeks and that if Greece does not arrest them Albanian police will cross the frontier into Greece and do so.

The Balkan situation is becoming more acute.

FORMER TEACHER IS HONORED BY WRITER
ONCE PUPIL OF HERS

Miss Jean B. Elwell, former Central High School teacher, who was honored by citizens here last spring when the auditorium in the new high school was dedicated in her name, received further honors in a current issue of Collier's Weekly, in an article written by a former pupil of hers, Fred C. In the masses that gathered on the play ground, crowded the sidewalks and streets leading to the buildings could be seen students seasoned with familiarity of the old buildings and grounds, students who had given up school activities but through some incentive were again anxious to join the ranks pupils from other towns and cities entering Xenia schools or the first time.

LESS THAN HALF OF GREENE COUNTY'S
FUND IS RAISED

Something less than half of Greene County's quota for the Japanese Relief fund being collected by the American Red Cross, has been subscribed according to the report of Mrs. Louis M. Allison, chairman of the collection campaign.

So far $600 has been contributed and reported to the organization, it is announced, while the goal has been set tentatively at $1,500. The ready response and the success of the first efforts leads Red Cross officials to the belief that the total amount will be reached before the drive is finished.

The largest amount contributed by any township outside of Xenia City was reported by Silvercreek Township in which Jamestown is the seat. The sum of $65.50 has been subscribed in that section.

An example of the ready sympathy of people toward the stricken Japanese was shown when the Handy Martin Concert Company, which furnished a concert at City Hall Theater in Xenia Monday night, sent $5 to the Red Cross office.

Reports from other districts of the county, received at Red Cross Headquarters, Tuesday morning, included, Miami Township, $55; Cedarville, $52; Spring Valley, $18, and Bellbrook, $37.

The largest amount contributed by any one church was $50.83, subscribed at the First M. E. Church. Campaign workers hope all donations will be in by Wednesday.

minutes and 43 seconds. All the delicate instruments from the Mount Wilson Observatory have been set up there. Dr. Oliver J. Lee has set up his coelestas for reflecting light of the sun to the lens of his camera at Catalina Island. The equatorial mounting (of two telescopes) has also been set up there to photograph the eclipse.

Mr. William Bruce, of Montgomery, Alabama, was expected in this city Tuesday for a visit with Dr. and Mrs. R. R. McClellan, and other local friends. He has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Arthur Logue, at Chicago.

Miss Gwendolyn Mills of Sheridan, Wyoming, arrived Monday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Hudson of West Market Street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Louis Baldner, and two children, of Dayton, spent Saturday with Mrs. Baldner's mother, Mrs. Rosa Bloom, of West Second Street.

WOULD BETTER HEALTH HELP YOU GET THAT SALARY RAISE?

There are lots of people who are neither very sick nor very well, but who seldom really feel at their best. Sleep does not refresh them as it used to and they get up for work feeling drowsy, dull and tired—easily upset with indigestion, nervous and often constipated. Consequently they cannot do their best—they can't put enough strength, energy, ambition and "pep" into their work to become leaders and increase their earnings.

FACE THESE FACTS! Build yourself up! Take a good tonic, as your doctor would advise. Let Dr. Thacker's Liver and Blood Syrup do for you what this strengthening, nourishing vegetable tonic has accomplished for countless numbers of men and women. Increase your appetite, tone and stimulate your digestion, soothe and nourish the overtaxed nerves, wake up the sluggish liver, gently correct constipation and send purer, healthier blood coursing through your veins.

TRY THIS TONIGHT! Take a delicious tablespoonful of this nourishing, strengthening tonic after the next few meals. Feel like doing a bigger day's work with enough strength, energy and "pep" left over to enjoy evenings with the family. Your druggist will promptly refund the cost unless you really notice a quick difference in the way you look, eat, sleep and feel.

Get it in Xenia at Sayre & Hemphill's and Sohn's Drug Store, and in Jamestown at G. O. Carpenter's.

TRIP TO ENGLAND DESCRIBED AT MEET

Xenia Rotarians were conducted on a tour through England and the Continent by P. H. Flynn, of the Xenia Shoe Manufacturing Company, who recently returned from an extended trip abroad, at the noon meeting at the Elks' Lodge, Tuesday.

Mr. Flynn opened his talk with the beginning of his trip, and his voyage across the Atlantic.

Mr. Flynn described his visit to the Wells Cathedral and told of the boat racing at Oxford and described the famous colleges there.

Stratford-On-Avon, the home of William Shakespeare and the paintings in the old city, were described by Mr. Flynn. He said that little American farm machinery is in use in England agriculture. The shoe factories of England, were visited in particular by Mr. Flynn, and he told of the largest factory, the Liberty factory in England.

The absence of large department stores as found in America was noted by Mr. Flynn in his trip through London.

Mr. Flynn closed with a description of existing conditions in Berlin, where business conditions he said are low. Only the German farmers have "held their own" according to Mr. Flynn.

Members of the Xenia Rotary Club donated $50 to the Greene County Chapter of the American Red Cross, for the Japanese Relief Fund at the meeting.

CAPACITY CROWD TO SEE DEMPSEY AND FIRPO FIGHT

New York, Sept. 11.—Over one million dollars' worth of tickets have been already sold for the Dempsey-Firpo fight this coming Friday night. There is no question of a sell-out, and indications are that more than twice the 85,000 capacity of the Polo grounds could be filled. The $25, $10 and $5 seats are all gone, so tremendous has been the demand, and only $20 and $15 reserve tickets, roughly estimated at $200,000 worth, remain, together with 20,000 general $3 admission tickets to be put on sale at the grounds Friday afternoon. Dempsey's share is figured to run between $400,000 and $500,000, while Firpo is figured to cut in for between $125,000 and $150,000.

FIRPO HAS SORE ARM; NOT WORRIED

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 11.—Luis Angel Firpo was the center of concerned eyes when an ugly looking eruption appeared on his best bet, the mauling right arm. His manager was worried, and so was everybody else, everybody but Luis Angel. The sore, located at about the center of the back of the arm between the elbow and shoulder, originally was a rope burn caused by Luis' playful habit of literally bounding back from the ropes of the ring while boxing with his partners. Such a sore in Dempsey's camp would cause a rush of specialists from New York and elsewhere, but Luis Angel just told Washington, his negro rubber, to put a little more horse liniment and goose grease on the arm after work-out.

BOUND OVER TO GRAND JURY HERE

H. S. Harris, colored, Dayton, arraigned on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated before Magistrate J. E. Jones Monday afternoon, entered a plea of guilty and was bound over to the Grand Jury under $500 bond.

Because Harris is in a serious physical condition, and his condition became critical Monday, he was released on his own recognizance and taken to the National Military Home hospital, Dayton, for treatment. He is a World War veteran, was gassed during his service and bears the marks of a number of bullet wounds.

Harris is said to have driven the automobile that struck James Miller, Treheins, causing him painful injuries, Saturday night.

FROM HIS LAST PUBLIC MESSAGE.

(Taken from a paper prepared by President Harding and read before a gathering of Knights Templars, only three or four hours before his death, by Mr. Christian.)

I am sure the mission of the beausant (standard of the Knights Templars) will be a failure if its travels are made simply a matter of symbolism and pageantry. It bears emblazoned upon it the supplication: "Not unto us, O Lord, not unto us; but unto thy name be the glory." We should glorify this holy name not by words, not by praise, not by displays of arms, but by deeds and service in behalf of human brotherhood. Christ, the great exemplar of our order, repeatedly urged this truth upon his hearers. There was nothing mythical or mystical in the code of living preached by Jesus Christ. The lessons he taught were so simple and plain, so fashioned to be marked by the humblest among men, that they appealed to the reason and emotions of all. His words to the fishermen bore conviction to the learned men of the Roman bench. All of his teachings were based upon the broad ground of fraternalism and justice and understanding, from which flows always peace. "A new commandment I give unto you—that ye love one another." Surely this was "all the law and the gospels."

A MOST DESIRABLE QUALITY.

The great immediate object of President Coolidge seems to be "smoothness" in government—a most desirable quality. It is his opinion that, to quote from the dispatches, "the country needs, primarily at the present time a feeling of stability, confidence and reassurance and the knowledge that things are going on smoothly."

There is a touch of Lord Melbourne to our new president, for it was Melbourne who, in response to the importunity of an earnest reformer, said: "Can't you let it alone?" Often there is great virtue in letting things alone, especially when people are pressing all sorts of foolish, and some dangerous, themes.

It is also true that things very frequently cure and right themselves. Not always, as Mr. Coolidge, of course, understands. Occasionally it is necessary to act, and to take an affirmative stand.

But the whole of the country will endeavor to co-operate with the president in his campaign for "smoothness." At least it will rejoice that he refuses to be crowded, and does not seem to be in a hurry. We have yet to learn of his capacity for quick action, when action is necessary. But as to that the people are hopeful.

The presidential silence, too, is on the whole welcomed by the people. There are enough orators as it is, enough men who are able to talk loudly, if not wisely, about things to be done. A peaceful White House may have a good effect on the country.

It is believed that already the wave of radicalism in the west is receding, as, of course, it was bound to recede. Perhaps it will be weakened more by neglect than by open attack.

At any rate the presidential temper and method may prove to be very helpful.

WHO WANTS THE ELECTRIC CHAIR?

And, now, there is a great pothole as to where they shall locate that electric chair that is going to put out the lives of those men who commit murder in Florida and are finally convicted.

The Legislature, in one of those spasms of reform that so frequently overtake legislative bodies, enacted a law prohibiting hanging as a punishment for capital crime and substituted the electric chair. But it overlooked the fact that to establish the death dealing institution money would be necessary to erect a proper building and establish the necessary machinery, and it did not provide the means.

Meanwhile, something must be done about it. The industry of passing out criminals is about to languish because there is no place where it can be done.

The Governor has suggested that Jacksonville take over the job, as it has a well equipped electric system and a place in which executions can take place. But Jacksonville will have none of it, not Jacksonville. Who in that city wants it understood that the gateway of the state is the place, also, where Florida must send her homicides to be executed? Nothing doing! The Governor is insistent and Jacksonville is stubborn, and so there you are.

THE JOHN BRYAN PARK

Something more than 500 acres of land is contained in the John Bryan park that was given to the state under the provisions of the will left by John Bryan of Yellow Springs. Three times the governor of Ohio refused to accept the gift, generous and valuable as it was, because of some provisions in the will to which objections had been made. But the last legislature accepted the gift and it is the property of the state. Because it has 200 acres of virgin timber, one of the notable bits of original forest to be found in the state, it has been put under the control of the State Forestry Board and has become a forestry station and experimental farm. That the property has an enormous value because of its size, the wonderful scenery about it and the vast amount of forest, is well known, and with it the forestry department hopes to arise a larger interest in forestry, its value and the certainty that reforestation can be done successfully.

As a part of the movement to induce tree lovers and advocates of forestry to visit the farm and receive the inspiration a stay there will produce, the annual campfire of the members of the State Forestry Association has been located on that place this year. It will take place on Sept. 21 and 22, the plan being to have lovers of trees gather on Friday, live in the woods that day, have a campfire dinner that evening, sleep in the woods that night and rest from a day spent in traveling about the great farm. The state forester, Edmund Sechrist of Wooster, has sent invitations to all tree lovers in the Forestry Association to come and get a view of these broad acres and the noble forests there to be found. If the weather is rough there will be sleeping quarters found in the barn, said to be the largest barn in the world, that was one of the prized improvements the original owner provided.

It will be worth the trip for lovers of forestry and the outdoor life. It is easy to reach the farm by traction from Xenia or Springfield, and a couple of days spent there will make a delightful outing, a night in the woods will be a real experience and familiarity with this latest gift to the state will be abundant repayment for the time spent on the trip. A Reader: "I have found it impossible to buy a rocker and straight chair, in my vicinity, to go with a birdseye maple bedroom set. Could you tell me how to cover chairs with cretonne, to be used in place of the maple?"

Answer: Why don't you buy a willow or wicker straight chair and rocker, and decorate these with backpad and seat-pad of cretonne? It is impossible to tell you how to cover an entire chair with cretonne. You would have to be shown how.

Mrs. P. B.: "Please publish a recipe for Mint Sauce to serve with meats. If there is a charge for this kindly state the amount."

Answer: There is never a charge or any help that I can give my readers. Here is the recipe: Hot Mint Sauce: Boil one-half pint of vinegar till it is reduced one-half, then add to it one and one-half tablespoons of brown sugar, one-half cup of water, a pinch of salt and two tablespoons of finely-chopped tender young spearmint. Bring to boiling point, and serve. Here is a recipe for Cold Mint Sauce: Wash one cup of tender green spearmint then chop it fine and crush into it one-half cup of brown sugar. Let stand 15 minutes then add one cup of vinegar and one teaspoon of salt. Let stand one hour before serving. Especially good on lamb. If you cannot obtain fresh, green mint ask your grocer for the dried mint which comes in small packages, inexpensively. If he does not carry it, write to me, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for personal reply and will gladly send you the name of a New York firm which will sell dried mint by mail.

Worried Mother: "Kindly let me know how to get rid of bed bugs. I have them in only one bed. Is it true that some people breed them?"

Answer: The best way is to spray gasoline in bed-frame and mattress. Gasoline is inflammable, however, so must not be used near heat or flame. A reader of this column recently sent me the following formula, which I believe is equally as good as gasoline—perhaps better: — Persian Powder and Borax mixed together in equal parts and applied by means of a powder gun will exterminate bed bugs. It is perfectly harmless to everything but the bugs. If it were my bed, and the bugs had not yet spread to the walls of the room, I would be strongly tempted to get rid of the mattress and springs, if these measures fail. For bed bugs are very persistent and extremely hard

Wants Women to Know How She Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lima, Ohio.—"Indeed, your medicine is all you say it is! I had very severe troubles such as women often have, and could do no heavy work. I was sick for several years, and from reading your ads. I finally decided to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now doing my own washing, which I haven't done for several years, and can walk long distances without those dragging pains and weak feelings. The Vegetable Compound is fine, and I never forget to say a good word for it to other women when they say they need something."—Mrs. G. W. HALL, 639 Hazel Avenue, Lima, Ohio.

There are many women who find their household duties almost unbearable owing to some weakness or derangement. The trouble may be slight, yet cause such annoying symptoms as dragging pains, weakness and a run-down feeling. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for such conditions. It has in many cases relieved those symptoms by removing the cause of them. Mrs. Hall's experience is but one of many.

Just Folks by Edgar A. Guest

The papers print a column which they call "Twenty-five Years Ago Today." And time was I read it and thought,

"How queer
Such strange events, should have happened here."

I mocked at my father, who smiled and said:

"I was there when this happened, or shook his head

At some ancient record, to indicate

The truth of a tale of some by-gone date.

Oh, it seemed in youth they could not be so.

Those stories of twenty-five years ago;

Then "Twenty-five years ago today" Seemed ever and ever so far away.

But I'm getting old, and it can't be hid,
I'm shaking my head as my father did

As I find them printing the things I know
As the record of twenty-five years ago.

And the children stare at my head they pat

And, surprised they question, "Did you see that?"

They think it strange that a man should say

He saw things twenty-five years ago today.

Oh, it's not so long. Just a flick, that's all!

You may think it great but it's really small.

And you'll find it out when the papers tell
Some ancient news you remember well.

Today's Talk

YOUR DOORS

Every time you think or speak, you let out something into the world.

Many of the most influential figures in history have been the silent men and women—those who radiated without talking.

Your eyes are doors. How much comes out of a pair of eyes that could come out in no other way! Eyes talk, admonish, melt in sympathy, fire with indignation, warm with love, inspire by their ability to look right into people's faces and into the face of the world.

Your mouth is a door. Sometimes just a handful of words, fitly spoken and sent out through such a door, have traveled around the world and touched the lives of millions.

You never know how far or how deeply any of your words will go or sink. They may travel quickly to the farthest parts of the world, or simply dig their way into some heart by heart and there lodge and grow to something very wonderful as though in some silent garden.

Then your mind, too, has doors, and so has your heart.

We seem to be a house of doors. I'm glad we are, for this makes possible a life of such varied achievement and association.

Through the doors of our eyes, our minds, our hearts, our mouths, may come and go the beauties and expressions and words of all the world.

And if you are made happy by what comes into your doors, think how happy others will be to receive something of you through their doors.

BAYLIFF WILL DON BLACK SHIRT SUNDAY TO BREAK BAD LUCK

By Wones
The Xenia Bayliffs will meet the fast Harshmanville baseball team Sunday at Washington Park in the deciding game of the three-game series.

The Bayliffs captured the first conflict here by a 2 to 1 score in a game that was full of excitement. The Harshman bunch, with the aid of "Tex" Tewell, evened up the series last Sunday and sent the local nine down to defeat at Harshmanville by a 4 to 3 score. Both of these games were real battles. Both look to be about evenly matched but the locals possess a good scoring punch at critical times.

In the first game the Harshman bunch was the first to score. The locals then tied it up and won out in the seventh inning. Over at Harshman Sunday Harshman was the first to score again and this time it was a pair of tallies. The Bayliffs came back in the lucky seventh and staged a rally that netted them three runs—just enough to win. However in the last round with one man out Herman blew up and the fans know the rest.

Sunday's game should be an interesting fray as both teams have been putting up a nice brand of ball. The Bayliffs will have their same lineup and playing on their own grounds they feel sure they can hand Sam Harshman's outfit the short end of the score. Manager Roy Bayliff will not wear his new white shirt and collar down at Washington Park Sunday but will don his black shirt, the one he is accustomed to having on his back at all his games. "Jew" thinks that the white shirt he wore Sunday brought bad luck.

Manager Bayliff will start Curt Free. A long rest generally does Curt's soupbone good and he will no doubt be in the pink for the week ends clash. Bob Herman will also be available for mound duty. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock with Norris and Clark in charge. Bayliff had a hard time in landing the Harshman bunch to show at Washington Park so the fans should turn out and support the club as it is worthy of it. The same price of admission will be charged.

FORTY FOUR GRID CANDIDATES ANSWER BURGNE'R FIRST CALL AT CENTRAL HIGH

Forty-four candidates, among them the seven letter men from last year's squad, answered Coach Earl "Puss" Burgner's first call for gridiron material at Central High School Monday evening.

The meeting was held in the high school gym and Coach Burgner announced that first practice would be held at the new Cox Memorial Athletic Field Tuesday evening. Fundamentals of the game and an explanation of the new rules were given by Coach Burgner in chalk talk to candidates.

Out of the remnants of two of the best football teams that ever represented the local school, the local mentor has the task of building a successful eleven. The 1921 team under Coach Jerry L. Katherman won the Class B championship of southwestern Ohio and was awarded the silver cup offered by Miami University. Coach Burgner's initial attempt here won the same cup a second time last year. It is necessary to win the cup three successive times to gain permanent possession of the trophy and with the majority of the stars graduated this feat presents itself as particularly difficult.

From the 1921 team went Paul Boxwell, Reutinger, Purdom, McCallister, Lones, Hendrickson and other stars. Graduation last June took Don Currie, Randall, Woolary, Hollencamp, Cowan, Smith, Zell, Ballentyne and Yeakley quit school. Hendrickson, giant tackle of two years ago, is expected to return to school this fall. Arthur Currie, for three years a quarterback, will not return until the middle of the season and will probably be lost to the squad. The other letter men returning are Schwab, Holton, Horner, Edwards, Zell, Botoroff, and Washburn. Of these only Zell was a regular.

Among the promising new candidates is Arnold Boxwell, brother of Paul Boxwell, who is expected to shine if he follows in his brother's footsteps. Others who have had experience are the Jordan twins, Howard and Harold, Chandler, Scurry, Folkerson, Hitchcock and few others. Geo. McKay is student manager. P. T. A. OUTLINES WORK FOR YEAR AT MEETING MONDAY

Tentative plans for an extensive program of work during the coming year, were laid at a meeting of the Federated Parent-Teacher Association of the Xenia City Schools held at the office of Superintendent of City Schools, C. A. Walz, Monday afternoon.

Representatives of every Parent-Teacher organization of the city, including the Spring Hill Association, which is not included in the Federation, attended the meeting. The meeting was held on the opening day of school, the organizations uniting to start immediate plans for the year's work.

Outstanding among the important year's plans laid at the meeting, was that of the assumption of the financing of the work of the Opportunity School, by the Parent-Teacher Association. Forty five pupils have been placed in the Opportunity School, and the association will aid the School Board in feeding, clothing and caring for the pupils.

The association will continue the work begun last year, that of feeding a luncheon of milk to all under-nourished children of the first three grades, of all the city schools. The plan was inaugurated last year, and met with decided success.

Combined with the health program of the association, will be the employment of the visiting nurse for the city schools, who will make regular visits to all the schools, regulating the weight, diet, and physical condition of the pupils. The Parent-Teacher Association will co-operate with the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs of the city, in the employment of the nurse, who will be supervised by the School Board.

Members of the School Board are planning to confer with officers of the two clubs in connection with the employment of the nurse.

The plans laid Monday provide for the installation of a playground device on each of the school playgrounds in the city, by the Parent-Teacher Association. A fund will be devoted to the purchase of playground equipment according to officers of the federation.

TULSA HOST TO OIL EXPOSITION WEEK OCT. 8 TO 14

Tulsa, Okla., Sept. 10—What is expected to be the largest gathering of oil men ever held is planned for October 8 to 14, when the first annual International Petroleum Exposition and Congress will convene in Tulsa. Arrangements for the event have been under way for months and the programme for the Petroleum Congress sessions October 9 and 10 will include addresses by some of the most notable figures in the industry. At these meetings there will be for the first time a frank discussion of petroleum problems by

MR. SAMUEL C. OLDHAM,
REYNOLDSBURG, OHIO.

Mr. Samuel C. Oldham, a well-known farmer of Reynoldsburg, Ohio, tells an interesting story of his experience with Ka-di-ok. Mr. Oldham, who owns his own farm, has been running it for 32 years. He is a man of sterling character and is highly esteemed by his friends and neighbors. His statement, therefore, will carry a great deal of weight by all who know him. He says: "I am feeling much better today than I have felt for the past five years, at which time I was operated on by a Grant Hospital for appendicitis, at that time my condition was very critical as peritonitis set in and almost carried me off. Since the time I recovered from this operation, I never felt right as my stomach was continually out of order and I was always more or less constipated. After eating my food fermented and caused me to have pains around my heart; I was in a weak and nervous condition and although I tried a number of remedies and took the best possible care of myself, I failed to get better. A short while back I heard so many favorable reports about Ka-di-ok that I started taking it and am happy to say that it has helped me wonderfully. I have no further pains with indigestion and I am a great deal stronger. I have five children in my family and they are all convinced that there is no better remedy in the world than Ka-di-ok, as they know what it has done for me.

"You are at liberty to publish this testimonial as I want others to know that a fine remedy Ka-di-ok really is."

Ka-di-ok can be had in Xenia at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store. adv

representatives of all branches of the industry. Heretofore the producers, refiners and marketers have held their sectional meetings separately.

HISTORICAL EXHIBITS

The exposition phase of the affair will include historical exhibits, tracing the history of the industry from the drilling of Drake's first oil well in 1859 down to the present. The drilling tools used by Colonel Drake will be exhibited alongside modern drilling equipment. There will be complete drilling outfits representing the three methods used for putting down wells—the standard cable tool, rotary and diamond core drill. These will be in operation.

In the scientific and technical displays will be exhibits showing various phases of the business coming within the realm of science. One feature being planned is a miniature refinery in operation, another a gasoline plant operating, a third a complete chemical and physical testing laboratory in operation. Models of tank cars and tank steamers, cracking stills, geological and engineering displays and photographic assemblies from various oil fields of the United States and foreign countries.

COMPREHENSIVE SHOW

Practically all the manufacturers of oil well, refining and marketing equipment in the country will be represented in the booths which make up the manufacturers' section of the exposition.

Parades and pageantry also will make up a part of the programme. One of the spectacles will be the entry of "King Petroleum" on the opening day of the exposition. On another day will be a parade of floats depicting various eras in the development of the industry. As a finale to the pageantry, "Queen Petroleum" will be crowned on the afternoon of the closing day. There will be a beauty contest and style show, in addition to two "Hippodrome" performances, each day.

A large group of buildings of steel construction is being erected for the exposition. Railroads throughout the country are granting special low rates for visitors.

Conventions of ten different organizations allied with the petroleum industry will be held in Tulsa during the week of the exposition.

BIBLE READINGS IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Teachers in Xenia city schools Tuesday morning began the same Bible reading program that has been followed in the schools here for the last three years.

School officials announced that sectarianism is not permitted to be manifested in any form by the teachers, but "only the broad conceptions and practices of the Christian religion are to be given place."

A program of Bible readings has been made out and is to be followed by the teachers.

GIVE JAZZ PROGRAM

Blues that make the feet of white folk shuffle on the Mississippi River boats at Memphis, Tenn., where W. C. Handy and his band held forth, were interpreted for a Xenia audience by Handy's Band at City Hall Theater Monday night.

"Memphis Blues," Beale St. Blues" and others were played but the feature number was the famous "Bugle Blues" one of Handy's biggest hits.

Sara Martin, who has invaded the homes of all music lovers with the phonographic interpretations of her "blues" singing was also a big feature of the concert.

The concert was a perfect offering of modern "jazz" music. It was poorly attended.

ASK EX-SERVICE MEN OF CITY TO ATTEND LEGION MEETING

Thurman "Dusty" Miller, column conductor and editor of the Wilmington News Journal, whose trite sayings are widely quoted, will entertain members of Joseph P. Foody Post, No. 95, American Legion, at legion hall, Detroit and Second streets, Thursday evening.

Dr. B. R. McClellan, Post Commander, who is arranging this series of monthly entertainments to spend up attendance, at post meetings, believes the program Thursday evening will draw the biggest crowd that has yet attended. Following the talk by "Dusty," there will be a Dutch luncheon and a social session to renew acquaintances and make new friends. Good music will also be provided.

Cards have been sent out by Dr. McClellan asking Legionnaires to express themselves as to their attendance but the meeting is not confined to Legion members, according to the Post Commander. All ex-service men will be guests of the Post at the entertainment.

Styles BY LENORE

Dull silk braid is used to excellent advantage in bringing out the fashion points of a satin crepe gown which makes a bid for the favor of the older woman.

In the classic line of the neck the bell finish of the sleeve, the almost normal waistline, the design takes its cut from the very latest tendencies in the new fall clothes, and the pepum has as its authority in several models with similar treatment which appeared at the Paris openings.

This fall it seems the smart thing

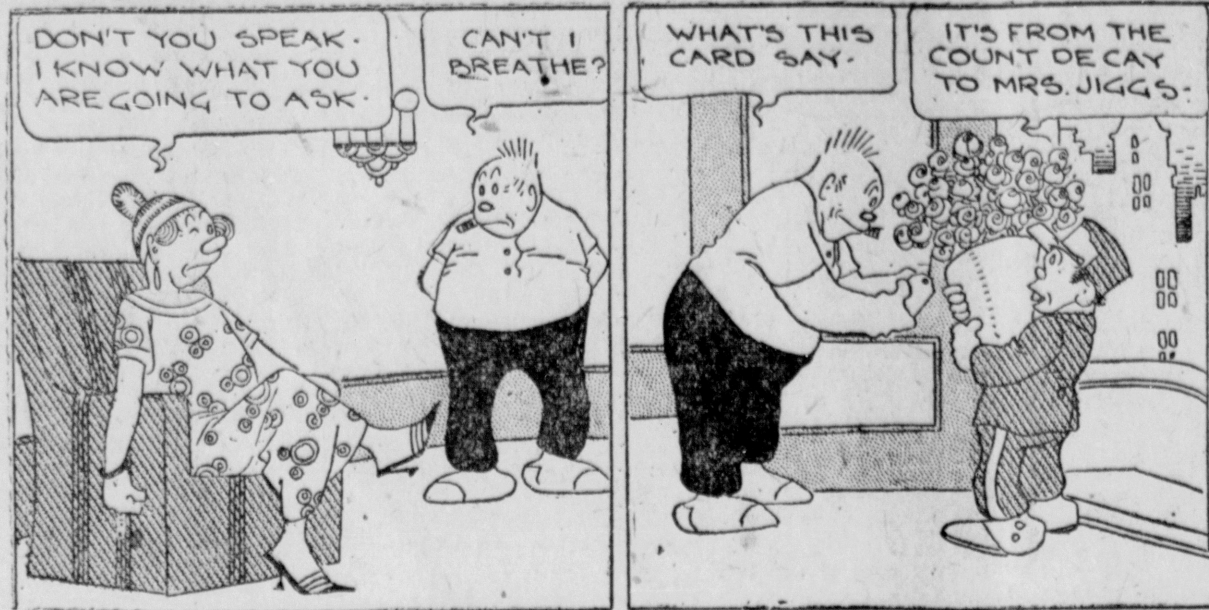

to start the season with black. In this instance a soft shade of corn yellow is brought to the relief, in the form of a floral design applied on the side of the pepum and in the facing of the sleeves. Flat crepes are holding their own in fall exhibits of silk dresses, but there are a number of new materials which will be liked by those who favor conservative novelties. One, a silk crepe which is ribbed very finely. Another, Jaqueline crepe, bears a Jacquard design in self-tones.

RED LEADER WARNS WORKERS.

Berlin, Sept. 11.—"If the masses of workmen don't join our ranks soon, I do not hesitate to give notice that I will drag them out of their houses by force, if necessary. Workmen have only a few days in which to volunteer, and if they don't they will be commanded with the bayonet to volunteer." This was the striking part of an address made to the Saxon socialist and communist "organizations for self-defense" by their commander at the parade grounds at Dresden.

BRINGING UP FATHER

GERMAN-AMERICAN MAKES STRANGE BEQUEST

Costume for aged. Mrs. W.

A wealthy German-American, a native of Wunsiedel, in northern Bavaria, has made a strange bequest to his native town. He bequeathed a large sum of money for the erection of a home for the aged and indigent males, with the clause, however, that all inmates would have to wear, during their lifetime and regardless of the season, a special costume, minutely described in his will. This photograph shows the strange costume—a sort of knickerbocker suit, with a loose, sleeveless coat and queerly shaped felt hats.

FORMER CEDARVILLE PASTOR RESIGNS

special congregational meeting of the Union Presbyterian Church in Endicott, N. Y. has been called to next Wednesday night, September 12, it is announced, to act on the resignation of the pastor, the Rev. Robert C. Galbreath, D. D.

Dr. Galbreath suffered a prolonged illness, beginning early last spring and continuing into the summer, when he recovered strength sufficiently to enable him to return to his former home in Cedarville, Ohio. It was hoped that with continued improvement, he would be able to resume his pastorate here, this month, but recently Dr. Galbreath, feeling that a long time might elapse before he could fully perform pastoral duties, forwarded his resignation. Dr. Galbreath returned to Endicott early last week and expects to remain here until after the meeting of September 12.

A WIFE'S STORY

By Jane Phelps

PAUL GOES ABROAD CHAPTER XXIV

What Evelyn said about Paul doing some sort of literary work lingered in my mind. He was clever, educated. Perhaps he would be happier, feel more interest if his work were congenial.

When he came home, not until the next day, I spoke of it to him:

"Why not get out some literary work, Paul, articles or short stories? You don't like business, don't believe you ever will, but that would be right in your line. All the years you put on your book would not be wasted if it fitted you for some sort of remunerative writing."

"To hear you talk one would think the wolf was already at the door. That kind of work is only pot-boilers except for the fellows old in the game. Do stop fretting. Unless all signs fail you'll have something real to think of soon."

"What do you mean 'I asked'."

"I mean we are going to get into the war, and mighty soon."

"That would give you still a greater chance to do such work," I replied, still unbelieving, my mind on our immediate needs.

"Do stop nagging! I've got enough to think about tonight without listening to fault-finding."

I longed to ask him what it was, but instead left him to smoke and think while I put on the dinner. All through dinner, and afterward, he was distracted, absorbed in his thoughts. In the morning too, he was unlike himself. Was there really something going on? And was it to be good or bad as it affected us, me, and the children?

That night the newspapers held the momentous news: we were going to take our part in the war. But even then this news, terrible as it must be for all Americans, was overshadowed for the moment by the news of what Paul was going to do. He was going abroad immediately, to serve as a secretary to one of the societies that already had quarters on the other side.

"You see what an education means he said. 'I got the job because I speak French fluently. It will be great to see Paris again.'"

"But, Paul, what will we do? We leave us. You can't! Even Mr. Logan leave us. You can't! Even Mr. Logan said they could not draft you."

"Draft nothing! I am going in a different capacity altogether. It's all settled so don't howl. You and the children can stay here or you can go home to your folks, just as you choose. I'll send you part of my pay, of course."

"How much are you to get?" the old question, and he gave me the old answer:

"A fair salary, but I'd go for even less. It makes me feel like a boy to think of being in Paris again; and no one can tell to what going at this time may lead."

"When do you go?"

"At once. We sail day after tomorrow."

It was all settled, nothing remaining for me to do but pack Paul's things. He gave me a month's rent, and a little besides. I asked him to promise to send us money regularly, which he did willingly enough.

Then he was gone. Just before he left he was very loving, very affectionate. I was not to worry, everything would go along all right. He kissed the children caressingly, promising to bring them something from "gay Paree."

He had scarcely been two days at sea before tradesmen began to bother me. It had been rumored about that he had gone, would be away indefinitely. It seemed he had given them only a little each month, a sop to Cerberus, and so had kept them quiet; me from knowing. But as soon as they knew he was gone they swooped down upon me. I dared not use the rent money, but gave them all I could, then sat down to plan how to live. I had not much faith in his remittances, in view of the circumstances. If he had anything left after he used what he wanted of his salary he would send it I knew; but would he have anything left?

The war, my country's troubles, receded into the dim distance in view of my own pressing needs. And anyway this is not a war story, but my story.

A week, two weeks passed, then in desperation I telephoned Logan. Perhaps he would help me find something to do, advise me.

"Mr. Logan has had a bad accident, is in the hospital with a broken leg and other injuries. It will be weeks before he is out," I was told.

ANOTHER TEACHER IS NOW NEEDED

Unusually large enrollment at Spring Hill School will necessitate the appointment of another teacher at that school, it was announced Tuesday by C. A. Waltz, school superintendent.

Grades three and five of that school have a total of 112 children enrolled and will have to be divided, so that three teachers will have charge of the combined grades instead of two. The extra teacher has not been appointed.

A large enrollment is also shown at McKinley School, where 67 are registered in the first grade. No extra teacher will be appointed there for the present, it being believed that some of the children will be found not of school age and eliminated. Children must be six years of age or their sixth birthday must come before December 1, to make them eligible to begin school.
